

How acoustically friendly is your learning environment

Contents

How acoustically friendly is your learning environment.....

How "listener friendly" is your room?

Language development starts early in life and literacy skills are directly related to auditory development. Children may spend up to 45 % of their time in classrooms in active listening situations. Improved listening conditions help children to become better readers

Acoustically friendly checklist

Room descriptors

high ceiling

low ceiling

open plan

enclosed room

well-fitting doors

poorly fitted doors(s) /doors left open

--	--	--

Amplification technology

effective use of hearing a

--	--	--